

Bespoke software solutions

Symm Solutions offer high quality bespoke software solutions for clients that require their software to work for them and their business.

We are experienced practitioners able to satisfy the unique and often highly complex needs of our clients. Our consultants possess a unique combination of business knowledge, IT capability and project management skills. We possess considerable experience in scoping, designing and delivering software solutions that deliver measurable benefits.

Below are examples of some of the bespoke software projects we have completed.

Product management system

We were commissioned to develop a centralised product and catalogue management system for a leading giftware company. The web-based system was developed on the Microsoft .NET framework and required a real-time interface to a stock control and order processing system running on an IBM AS400.

Insurance administration system

We have developed a complete insurance administration system for a leading Lloyd's insurance broker. The system provides a full policy life cycle solution for professional indemnity business incorporating quotations, mid-term adjustments, renewals and policy document production. The system is user configurable and provides a full audit trail.

Print management solution

We have developed a print management solution for a commercial print company. The system incorporates an estimating module that provides instant quotes and features an online procurement module for clients.

Local authority portal

We have built an online portal for the education community of a London borough to connect all the schools and colleges in the area and provides news, information and resources of interest to teachers, learners and parents, carefully filtered according to their access levels.

Our services include:

- Building web portals
- Secure Intranet/Extranet applications
- Integration with legacy systems
- Application re-engineering and data migration

What we offer:

- We provide design, development and maintenance services
- We adopt the development standards and methodology required by our clients
- We provide a warranty and ongoing support
- We undertake projects on a fixed price and T&M basis

Contact us today for further information and a no obligation consultation.

0845 226 3518

Symm Solutions Limited

Temple House
221-225 Station Road
Harrow
Middlesex HA1 2TH
United Kingdom

T: 0845 226 3518
info@symmsolutions.com
www.symmsolutions.com

